MARTIAL LAW MAY BE PUT IN EFFECT

Proclamation Has Been Drawn by President For Mine Era, Weeks Announced.

WITHDRAWN AFTER CLASHES

Miners Take Their Losses With Them—Deputy Sheriff is Killed in Battle at Blair

Washington, Aug. 31.—President Harding has drawn up a proclamation of martial law for the coal mine war era in West Virginia, Secretary of War Weeks announced today.

If federal troops are sent, Brig. Gen. Banholz, who has been investigating the situation, will be in command. The dispatch of the troops will depend on a report tomorrow as to whether troops are needed.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Miners withdrew with their losses after a clash with outposts of deputy sheriffs guarding mountain passes in Logan county today, state police headquarters here were advised.

Sheriff Chafin wired he believed the miners carried out their casualties to prevent the sheriff from gaining knowledge. There were no victims among the county forces, Chafin said.

Logan, Aug. 31.—J. George, deputy sheriff, was killed in the battle at Blair.

Miners attacked from the town of Blair and charged up the mountain, but were reported to have been repulsed by Logan's first line of defense. Gen. Embank, in command of state forces, appealed to the government for reinforcements.

The miners were driven back to Blair. Chafin's forces now total 1,000 men equipped with rifles and machine guns. They expect a renewed attempt to cross the mountains.

Battle Planes Distribute Tracts

Logan, W. Va., Aug. 31—Battle planes roared over Boone county early today, showering down upon the masses of armed miners lying behind the ridge dividing Boone and Logan counties copies of the proclamation issued by President Harding calling on them to disperse.

Logan county's first line of defense, 20 miles long up and down the valley of the Guyandotte, bristled with rifles as hundreds of volunteers from the surrounding counties poured into strengthen the force that will bear the brunt of the assault if the miners attack.

All through the night groups of armed citizens, some partly clad in the old order; some with the "tin hats"—steel helmets of overseas days, tramped or rode into Logan and scattered out on the river line.

On the other side of the ridge where the miners waited for the dawn, great activity was reported early today. The miners forces have been augmented by the arrival of hundreds of union men carrying rifles, who passed through Madison in Boone country, in automobiles and trains.

Major C. F. Thompson, U. S. A. and two representatives of the United Mine Workers arrived here by special train from Charleston with copies of President Harding's proclamation which they will carry personally through the miners outposts to the headquarters of the opposing camp. They will make a final personal appeal to the miners leaders to avert the disaster that is certain to follow their failure to obey the president's command to disperse.

Special trains from Huntington and southwestern counties brought other reinforcements to Logan. Five hundred men from McDowell county arrived with doctors, nurses and field ambulance equipment.

Throughout the entire section threatened by civil war, preparations are being rushed by the citizenry as though an attack by a foreign invader was threatened. Women are volunteering to drive automobiles, carrying ammunition and supplies up to the defense zone on this side of the Guyandotte. They are doing the work on farms and in shops in many counties to release

NEXT EXAM. THU., 8 P. M.

Guard Company Recruits Will Not Be Given Physical Tests Tonight.

Another physical examination for men who have enlisted in the local national guard company will be held at Dr. L. M. Green's office Thursday evening at eight o'clock, it was announced today. Twenty successfully passed the examination last night.

The number of enlistments was reported today to be forty-seven, which is only three short of the required number to get federal recognition for the company. Recruits will be accepted, however, after the minimum is reached.

BELFAST IS UNDER MILITARY CONTROL

Despite Irish Truce, Crown Forces Take Charge of City at Request of Authorities.

DEAD IS ESTIMATED AT 16

Killing of Catholics of Belfast and Diplomatic Deadlock Puts Ireland on Verge of War.

Belfast, Aug. 31.—Belfast was under military control tonight.

Despite the truce the crown forces took control of the city at the request of the authorities. It was not martial law. Fighting continued in spite of the truce.

The dead in the last two days, fighting was estimated at sixteen, with the number wounded totalling one hundred.

Terrific fighting broke out afresh in the streets of the city today. Shipyard workers on their way to work were ambushed and cut down by rifle fire in York and Queen street.

One man was killed and scores of workers were wounded by the fire from ambushes on either side of the car lines.

The military threw an armed cord on around the area where the fighting was most severe but at noon and during the lunch hour for the shipyard men, fighting was resumed.

Rifles and grenades were used by both sides and there were many casualties.

Bitter fighting between Catholic and Loyalist mobs with police and troops trying to quell the rioting, lasted up until the curfew last night. Sporadic fighting continued, however, with attacks upon Catholics in Unionist quarters and reprisals against Loyalists living in Sinn Fein sections of Belfast.

Houses of both Unionists and Nationalists were fired.

Snipers concealed on house tops, kept up intermittent fire along the street that leads from the center of Belfast to the Sinn Fein section on the hill.

Bullets spat through the darkness across the dead line marked out half way up the hill, and detachments of police were kept busy throughout the night running down the snipers.

Dublin Prepares For War.

Dublin, Aug. 31.—The killing of Catholics in Belfast and the diplomatic deadlock today brought Ireland to the verge of a renewal of civil war.

Orders were sent out to all men of the Irish republican army to be ready for instant mobilization. Many wanted by the British authorities whose arrest would instantly follow a break in the truce, were slipping away, headed for secret Sinn Fein strongholds in the hills. Everywhere preparations were quietly but rapidly being made for war, following reports from Belfast of the carnage in the Ulster capital, where over sixty casualties have resulted from the internecine warfare.

"An early termination of the truce is threatened," says the official Sinn Fein announcement.

The strictest secrecy was maintained regarding the time of dispatch of the Dail Eirann's reply to the latest note from Lloyd George.

POSTOFFICE WILL GIVE INFORMATION

Motor Tourists Will Find What They Wish to Know About Roads by Calling on Uncle Sam.

ONE OF WILL HAYS' IDEAS

Postmaster Hunt Receives Outline of Plan and Says Clerks Will Gladly Cooperate.

Motor tourists in the future will find postoffices throughout the country an information bureau, as Postmaster G. P. Hunt has received word from Will Hays, postmaster general, that clerks in all offices are to supply information asked by tourists.

The ruling is believed to apply more to the smaller towns, where the postoffice is generally located in the leading store, as in cities the motorists generally ask a policeman or garage man information concerning roads and routes, hotels and along other lines.

Postmaster Hunt stated today that the clerks here would gladly give any information possible to tourists and that they always had been obliging here.

The movement to assist tourists is an outgrowth of the idea of the bureau of general governmental information recently established in the postoffice department at Washington, D. C., for the benefit of visitors at Washington. Real service has been extended to visitors at Washington during the past summer months by the bureau, and Postmaster General Hays decided to make the movement a nation-wide one.

The following is the letter in part received from Mr. Hays on the subject.

"Thousands of tourists are now motoring up and down the country and postmasters and postal employees have the opportunity of being of practical help to such strangers in the communities, whose greatest difficulties lie in securing reliable information concerning the territory, through which they are passing and catching up with their mail from home. It is suggested that the postmaster or some designated clerk in each office might, without any serious loss of time in his regular routine, so equip himself as to be able to give quick and reliable data to inquiries concerning directions, etc., and other general information that may be useful in addition to giving careful and cheerful attention to the traveler's mail inquiries."

Mr. Hunt has not designated any postal employee to take charge of the information bureau, but said today that such information as tourists desire and the office is able to give will be gladly supplied by any or all of the clerks.

MAY TAKE OFFICE IN THE MORNING

A. L. Riggs is Notified Today That His Commission Was Signed by Harding

MESSAGE FROM SEN. WATSON

A. L. Riggs may take up his appointment as postmaster here tomorrow, providing his commission arrived in the morning from President Harding. Mr. Riggs this morning received a message from Senator James E. Watson, in which it stated that his commission had been signed, and was being sent to him. The message also stated that he could take office September first.

Mr. Riggs was appointed a few weeks ago to the office, and has been waiting for his commission. His bond has been filed and everything was completed except the proper certificate from President Harding.

G. P. Hunt, the retiring postmaster, was preparing today to turn the office over to Mr. Riggs in the morning, provided the commission arrived. In case the commission fails to come, Mr. Hunt will continue in office, and will check up and pay off the exact hour that he quits.

CALLS FOR MORE MONEY NEXT YEAR

City Budget Would Raise an Additional $9,000 to Meet Increased Expenses in 1922

ITEMS WHICH ARE ADDED

Park Improvement $3,000, Increased Salaries $1,000, Garbage $1,200 and Loan $5,000

Expenditures by the city of Rushville during the calendar year 1922 are estimated at $59,387.50 in the budget which has been prepared by the city clerk as provided by law, as compared with an estimated expense of $50,762.50 for this year.

This means that the city tax rate will have to be raised in order to meet the proposed expenses for 1922 because the budget calls for an increase of $9,000. The total valuations of property in the city of Rushville, on which taxes will be paid next year, is practically the same as the sum on which taxes are being paid this year, so that the tax duplicate will not figure in a comparison of tax rates.

In passing its appropriation ordinance last year, the city council appropriated $50,762.50, but the budget reveals that taxes raised this year on the sixty-cent levy will amount to only $38,210.18 which indicates a "paper" deficit of $12,500. It is apparent that the city council has run the city so far on less than the sum estimated last August, but has not kept within the sum raised by taxation.

This fact is revealed by the item in this year's budget to meet a temporary loan of $5,000, which the council has borrowed this year.

The increased appropriations for next year are accounted for by the following, which were expenses not met this year:

Free garbage collection, $1,200. To pay off temporary loan $5,000. Expense of public parks, $3,000. Increase in city officers' salaries, $1,000.

All other items of the budget are practically the same as last year.

The budget reveals that an appropriation of $900 will be asked for the mayor's salary, which has been $600; for the clerk, $840 whose salary has been $600; for the city councilmen, $200, whose salaries have been $100 each.

The increase in the pay of the city's elective officers, which is requested in the budget, is not near the limit allowed by law for officials of this class of city. The maximum for the mayor is $1,500, while the councilmen and clerk are entitled to more than is requested. In addition chairmen of committees having to do with the operation of the municipal water and light plant, are entitled to additional compensation for services rendered. This has never been taken by local councilmen, however.

It is hoped that the item of $3,000 for the improvement of the city park will go through as this is regarded as very important.

MILROY WOMAN PAYS FINE

Troubles of Occupants of Double House Aired in Court

Mrs. Ruth Hall of Milroy pleaded guilty in Justice Stech's court to a charge of assault and battery, the charge being preferred by Mrs. Lelah M. LaMee. The two families occupy a double house, and difficulties arose between the two women, which is said to have resulted in a fight, and the charge was preferred. Mrs. Hall after pleading guilty paid the fine of $1 and costs, and in turn filed a charge of provoke against Mrs. LaMee, alleging that she provoked her first.

OFFICIAL BOARD TO MEET

An important meeting of the official board of the St. Paul's M. E. church will be held in the church parlors this evening at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance of the official members is requested.

SAYS WIFE NAGGED AT HIM

Arvy Wilfong Sues Mary Wilfong for Divorce Today

Alleging that his wife nagged at him, and that she had a bad temper, often having spells of anger, Arvy Wilfong today filed suit for divorce from Mary Wilfong. The complaint sets out that they were married September 10, 1920 and separated August 25 of this year. The plaintiff in the action is Chief of Police of this city. His allegations also set out that his wife told him that she wished he would leave home, and said that "he was of no account".

The plaintiff in the action is represented by John A. Titsworth, attorney.

KIWANIANS HOPE TO WIN THE OLD GAME

Putting in Many Hours Preparing For Visit of Connerville Club Thursday.

TO DINE TOGETHER AT NIGHT

Thursday afternoon at 3:15 the local Kiwanis base ball team will take on the Connerville Kiwanis team here on the Tail Lights grounds. The local boys have been hard at it every evening getting themselves in trim, while the Connerville team has been busy recruiting new talent for its team which has been very materially strengthened during the past couple of weeks.

The game will begin promptly at 3:15. There will be no admission charge. It is expected that a large attendance will be on hand for the local men. The local Kiwanis team has played three games thus far this season, winning two of them and losing to the fast Richmond team, which is leading the city league of Richmond. If arrangements can be made, the Rushville club will again play the Richmond team.

Both the Connerville and Rushville clubs will dine together at the Windsor Hotel following the game Thursday afternoon.

The team of the Rushville Kiwanians will be composed of Earl Osborne, Bill Young, Will Trenepohl, Walter Thomas, Derby Green, Nick Tompkins, James Foley, Glenn Moore, Bob Groom, Scott Hosier, Chas. Green and George Hogsett.

The increase in the pay of the city's elective officers, which is requested in the budget, is not near the limit allowed by law for officials of this class of city. The maximum for the mayor is $1,500, while the councilmen and clerk are entitled to more than is requested. In addition chairmen of committees having to do with the operation of the municipal water and light plant, are entitled to additional compensation for services rendered. This has never been taken by local councilmen, however.

It is hoped that the item of $3,000 for the improvement of the city park will go through as this is regarded as very important.

BETWEEN 1 AND 4 O'CLOCK

All election inspectors for the special election, which will be held throughout the state Tuesday, voting on the proposed thirteen amendments to the state constitution, are reminded today by County Clerk Loren Martin, to call at his office Saturday afternoon to get the election supplies for the various precincts.

The ballots and all supplies have been received here and arranged for each inspector, and the law requires that the inspectors shall call for them on the Saturday preceding the election, and that the supplies are then in their custody until after the election.

The county clerk has arranged the precincts in bundles, and they will be ready for distribution Saturday afternoon between the hours of one and four. The clerk's office closes daily at four o'clock.

Explaining the Merits of Goods to Be Sold at E. A. Lee's

AUCTION SALE!Saturday, Sept. 3rd

Referring to the goods I am offering in my sale of September 3d, I wish to say there is nothing better of their kind on the market.

Of these Furnaces, there are more than a hundred in Rush county; your neighbors have them. If you are thinking of a furnace, investigate and come and buy. Printed instructions for installing will be furnished.

The Nisco Spreader is one of the best on the market and probably as much used as any throughout the county.

The Deep Tilling Machines are capable of breaking your soil 16 inches deep and will turn out of sight any amount of trash, thus building a deep soil and furnishing a deep, moist, root bed for the crops, insuring August drought conditions.

The Dale Chemical Closet is no experiment. It's the leader in its line and guaranteed to be as odorless as the slush system, and is easily installed; just the thing for rural or suburban property, out of reach of a slush system.

LEAGUE TO HAVE ONE HOT FIGHT

Bolivia Requests That League Revise 1904 Treaty With Chili Making End of Pacific War

CHALLENGES LEAGUE'S RIGHT

To Attack Also The Competency of League to Revise Such a Treaty as That of 1904

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, (By Mail)—Without doubt the bitterest fight to come before the Second General Assembly of the League of Nations, which convenes here on September 5, will be that made in Bolivia's request that the League revise her 1904 treaty with Chili, which marked the close of the great Pacific war.

The fight, which Chili has already made known she will put up will have two phases. First of all, Chili has challenged the right of the League even to put the question on the program for discussion.

Secondly, should the Assembly decide that the President and the Secretariat were right in placing the item on the agenda, Chili will then attack the competency of the League to revise such a treaty as that of 1904.

At the time Bolivia first appealed to the League last November, her action was combined with that of Peru, which demanded equally a revision of her 1883 treaty with Chili. Both treaties marked the close of the same war with Chili, but the treaty with Bolivia was only finally concluded twenty one years after the end of hostilities and the signing of the treaty with Peru.

For the time, at least, Peru has withdrawn her request that the League take up the famous Taen-Arca affair, which would be involved in a revision of the treaty. As a consequence the request of Bolivia, which was only put on the agenda of the coming assembly over the formal protest of Chili, stands for the moment alone.

In Bolivia's original request that the League revise the treaty, the following justifications were given:

First: That the treaty was imposed by force.

Second: That through Chili's fault, certain fundamental articles of the treaty were never fulfilled.

Third: That the existing state of affairs involves a permanent menace of war.

Fourth: That as a result of the treaty, Bolivia is shut off from all access to the sea.

To each of these four allegations, Chili has filed with the League flat denials.

In response to the first, she points out that the treaty was concluded only twenty-one years after the close of hostilities and that no pressure whatsoever was brought to bear upon Bolivia.

To the second charge, she has replied that Chili has carried out all obligations under the treaty.

To the third charge, Chili replies that since 1883 she has never dreamed of going to war with Bolivia.

Finally, to the fourth charge, Chili has replied that Bolivia spontaneously surrendered the territory between the original northern boundary of Chili and the province of Tarapaca, that Chili has repeatedly offered Bolivia access to the sea; that for this purpose she has already constructed at her own expense the railway between Africa and LaPaz and that, as a matter of fact, Bolivia has sea access both at Africa and Antofagasta.

In addition to this refutation of the Bolivian charges, Chili has strongly attacked the competency of the League to undertake the revision of the treaty.

All monies received under the provisions of this act are deposited in a special fund, known as the Auto Theft Fund, and such monies are to be used only for administration purposes, and for the recovery of stolen automobiles and the apprehension of thieves. Each container costs the state only ten cents so that forty cents out of the fifty cents paid for the container will be used in assisting owners in recovering stolen cars and apprehending automobile thieves. All stolen cars should be reported promptly to Ed Jackson, Secretary of State, as lists of such cars are sent every few days to all police officers in the state and to the license departments in surrounding states, also to dealers and garages.

This law conferred state police powers upon the secretary of State and gave him authority to appoint deputy motor vehicle police. Fifteen motor vehicle police officers have been appointed, one from each Congressional district and two-at-large.

In addition to these, seven detectives, attached to the Indianapolis Police Force, have been given police powers. These seven men work exclusively on stolen automobiles and are very efficient in this line of work. Since having state-wide police powers conferred upon them, they have arrested the principals in two gangs of thieves and recovered more than ten automobiles.

"Inside The Cup", Princess

Said to be one of the most remarkable picture productions of the current season, "The Inside of the Cup", a Paramount-Cosmopolitan picturization of Winston Churchill's famous novel, will be shown at the Princess Theatre for two days beginning today.

When this book was published in 1913, its exposure of hypocrisy among wealthy churchgoers, provoked bitter criticism by the clergy of England and this country. The hero of the story, as in the picture, is the Rector of a fashionable church, who becomes disgusted with certain elements of his flock and severely arraigns them for their shame and hypocrisies.

Director Albert Capellani, however, has paid more attention to the dramatic features of the story than to the philosophy which makes the book almost unforgettable. The scenes are thrilling and the heart appeal culminating in the fruition of a love romance is irresistible. The cast, headed by William P. Carleton and Edith Hallor, is unusually large and artistic.

According to report, Mix has here a story which keeps him at "concert pitch" from start to finish. In fact, it is declared that for speedy and sensational action it never has been surpassed by any photoplay in this lively star's long list of successes. That statement certainly sets a pace calculated to interest anyone who has seen Mix on the screen in a Fox production.

Mix so often has made a new record in daring deeds and "impossible" stunts after he had apparently reached the limit, that nothing is now likely to surprise his army of admirers. But all who are strangers

State Traffic Regulations
Cut Down Church Attendance
Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 31
State traffic regulations are cutting down attendance at Sunday night church services here, ministers declared today. The law requires that tail lights on automobiles be left burning at night even when the cars are parked. Farmers contend this burns out the lights and is an unnecessary waste of electricity. They are spending their Sunday evenings other places besides in churches, the ministers said.

The Great Decision

The time of year has arrived when many young people have to make the great decision—they must determine what their future will be by deciding whether they will continue their education.

Every boy and girl can be compelled to attend the public schools until they become sixteen years of age. After that it depends upon the boy, or the girl, as the case may be. They must reach their own conclusions about whether they will improve the time in their youth in order to reap the reward of the education in mature years, or succumb to the allurements of "ready money" in the form of a position which offers little opportunity for advancement.

Few boys and girls, when they reach the point in life where they must choose between an education and its alternative, take into consideration that a man from his neck up can be worth as much as $100,000 a year, but from his neck down he is scarcely worth $2 a day.

The boy or girl who drops out of school before even completing the high school course, most frequently does so because of lack of interest in school work, because of no desire for an education, due to a failure to give the matter sufficient thought, or because of the actual need of money to support themselves or their families.

No boy or girl in this land should be denied a complete high school education. He or she who finds it impossible to support parents in distress should make their wants known to some organization interested in education so that an effort may be made to meet their situation. It is not right with a free public school system such as we have that any young person should be compelled to leave school against their wishes.

Boys and girls of this class who are determined to have an education generally find a way. It is those who lack interest that persons interested in education must address themselves. They must be shown that if they are inclined to leave school before completing the high school course, that they are taking a big chance of falling short of success in after life due to lack of preparation.

It is true that men have achieved success in spite of a meagre education; but why start a race with a serious handicap? With a high school education, young people go farther and faster. The element of chance can be removed entirely by remaining in school, no matter what the handicaps are.

Proposed Amendments to State
Constitution Briefly Explained

A concise statement of the ends to be accomplished by each of the proposed amendments to the state constitution on which voters will pass at a special election Sept. 6 has been prepared by a special committee of the State Bar Association, composed of Ralph M. Kane, C. C. Shirley, James W. Fesler, J. A. Van-Osdol and Bernard Korbly. The comment is limited to the explanation of results, without indorsement or objection. The Republican is publishing the amendments in numerical order, one each day, with the bar association committee's note on each.

10 and 11 Taxation and Income Tax

That sec. 1 of Art. 10 of the constitution of the state of Indiana be amended to read as follows: Sec. 1. The General Assembly shall provide, by law for a system of taxation.

That Sec. 10 of the constitution of the state of Indiana be amended by adding thereto a new section to be designated and numbered as Sec. 8, to read as follows: Sec. 8. The General Assembly may provide by law for the levy and collection of taxes on incomes and from whatever source derived, and in such cases and amounts, and in such manner, as shall be prescribed by law and reasonable exemptions may be provided.

Note—The purpose of these amendments is to leave the entire subject of taxation, including exemptions, to the Legislature and to authorize the Legislature to establish a state income tax. Those favoring these two amendments claim that the solution of our present tax we have some form of a classified problems in this state requires that tax law including power to levy an income tax and that before we can have either of these laws we must amend the constitution as provided for in these two amendments, the effect of which would be to place the whole question of taxation within the unrestricted discretion of the Legislature.

Those who oppose these amendments insist that any laws passed on the subject of taxation should be enacted under the safeguards of uniformity, equality and justice, which Sec. 1, Art 10 of the constitution, now provides and that it would be unwise and dangerous to grant to the Legislature an unrestricted and unlimited power to enact laws on the subject of taxation.

Car Driven by Miss Louise Innis Crashes Into Another Machine in Shelbyville

BOTH AUTOMOBILES DAMAGED

A serious accident took place in Shelbyville Monday evening, when an automobile driven by Miss Louise Innis of this city, and occupied by Miss Edith Mardis of Shelbyville, crashed into an automobile owned by W. H. Wagner, damaging both machines. The accident occurred when Miss Innis lost control of the car after putting it in gear, and did not know how to stop the car by working the clutch, according to a dispatch from that city.

The two girls had accompanied Miss Doris Sindlinger, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Esta Rhodes, where Miss Sindlinger called. While Miss Sindlinger was at the Rhodes home, Miss Innis decided she would try to drive the machine. She started the motor and the car lunged forward at a rapid speed, crashing into the Wagner machine, which was standing on the south side of the street in front of the Wagner residence.

Had it not been for the quick action of the Mardis girl in putting on the emergency brake after the car struck the Wagner machine, more damage would have been caused. The Wagner machine was pushed to the Big Four railroad tracks, a distance of about 100 feet, before the Sindlinger car was stopped.

SNOW GAVE UP HOPE OF EVER BEING WELL

Indianapolis Man Never Expected to Recover Health—Is Now Happy as a Boy

"I'm willing to do my part to let people know about Tanlac because there's no doubt about its being a wonderful medicine," said Andrew D. Snow, 530 South Third St., Indianapolis, Ind.

"For the past five years, that is until I got Tanlac, I suffered terribly from stomach trouble and other complications. Everything I ate disagreed with me and finally my nerves gave way and I couldn't sleep at night to do any good. To make matters worse, rheumatism got me in its clutches and I almost lost use of any hands and arms. I got to where I couldn't work to do any good and was so discouraged I never expected to be a well man again."

"Tanlac benefitted me in every way. I eat anything I want now and sleep, why, I sleep all night long without a break and wake up in the morning feeling as active and happy as a boy. I've got more life and energy than I've had for years and just feel fine all the time. Tanlac certainly did the work for me."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere. Advertisement

When you come right down to reason, what is there to "discount" tires —

THE next time a friend comes to you all excited about some wonderful tire bargain—ask him how much value he ought to get for each dollar of tire money.

It's astonishing that any car owner today should not know all the tire service he is entitled to.

Nor how to check up between the economy of par quality on one hand—and big discounts, surplus stocks, discontinued lines and retreads on the other.

For two years U. S. Tire makers have been telling the American people all about tires.

They have laid open the tire business from every angle.

They have always led the fight for better tires.

They have consistently maintained quality first standards with certain economy for the tire buyer.

They have established 92 Factory Branches all over the country. Perfecting U. S. distribution so that you get a fresh, live tire every time you buy a U. S. Tire.

So when a man once decides on U. S. Tires he knows what he is getting in quality—service—economy.

In support of his own judgment he gets the pledged word and reputation of the largest and most successful tire concern in the world.

A sound reason for the fact that you see more U. S. Tires on more cars than ever this year.

"You get a fresh, live tire every time you buy a U. S. Tire."

"Speaking of Women—"

Irvin Cobb points out that feminine shopping does not necessarily imply buying. It means hard work for everyone concerned—but seldom results in a transaction involving money.

As a country minister once declaimed: "King Solomon said, and I partially agree with him—" We only partially agree with Mr. Cobb on this subject.

It is true there are still some aimless shoppers left. But they are in the minority. Today most women—as well as most men—are well informed buyers, with a sound basis for comparing stores and values. By buying goods of recognized merit, they save themselves the throes of old-time "shopping trips" and at the same time get a better and bigger money's worth.

Most women read the advertisements that appear every day in their newspapers. They make a practice of keeping strictly up-to-snuff on new developments, innovations and improvements. They know just where to go for "this" and who in town keeps "that."

When they shop they generally know just what they want, where to find it, and how much to pay.

Their knowledge saves them endless trotting, wearisome questioning and haggling.

The advertisements have taken the "hop" out of shopping.

Isn't that worth while?

PEACE THOUGHT NEAR IN STATE MINE WAR

Arbitration Committee is Selected at Meeting of Operators and Miners

TIME LIMIT OF THREE DAYS

Sullivan, Ind., Aug. 31—Peace was near today in Sullivan county's mine war.

Emissaries of the coal operators and the disgruntled mine worker came back from Indianapolis, where Governor McCray had summoned them to lay down a plan of arbitration. They brought back word of the conference in the governor's office which started about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued until 8 o'clock in the evening.

The result of the conference was the selection of an arbitration committee and signing of an agreement that all questions in dispute between the miners and the operators be referred to the committee for "full and final settlement". John Hessler, president of the Indiana union, and Phil Penna, secretary of the operators organization, from the committee.

This plan will be submitted to the miners for their approval and a re-

WOMEN PROTEST SPEECH

Prof. Christie Criticised "Profiteering Efforts" of Some Farmers

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 31—Farm women of Wayne county raised their voices in protest today against the recent speech of Prof. G. L. Christie of Purdue University in which he criticised "profiteering efforts" of some farmers.

In a letter sent to a Richmond newspaper, a farmer's wife living near Hagerstown queries: "If farmers had not advanced, where would be the need of an agricultural school, or a Christie or of Christie's job?"

"The farming business is the only one that hasn't profiteered during the war", the letter said. "They weren't allowed to, if they had have been, they would have the money now to meet the bills for high-priced machinery and high priced land".

Apartment Is Built As a Home For Rats

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Aug. 31—A pilgrimage of the rats of the United States to the Wistar Institute here, where a $30,000 home for rats for experimental purposes is being built, would not be surprising should the news get to the ears of the country's rodents.

The new home for rats will be complete in every detail—as complete as if it were made for human beings, for it is from experiments with these rats that scientists learn of many ways to save lives of humans.

The home will include a gymnasium, where the rodents can take daily exercise; a hospital with a specialist and nurses; an isolation department for diseased and nutty rats; light and ventilating system; a dance floor; phonographs; choicest food, including French pastry; indirect steam heating; sanitary kitchen and dietary department; every room leading into the open, and other sanitary provisions.

Some of the observations made in the study and experimentation with rats, according to Dr. Milton H. Greenman, director of the institute, are:

Rats are fond of music and the story of the "Pied Piper of Hamlet" might easily be true.

Contrary to general belief, rats like light and air and live in dark, filthy places only because of necessity.

Rats like the old-fashioned better type of music in preference to jazz. It takes about three generations to develop the aristocratic rat from the rough-neck variety found in alleys and filthy places.

"The female of the species is more deadly than the male". They are harder to handle.

The male rat is a good family man. He has to be for if he as much as looks at a female other than his wife, the latter makes it hot for him.

Much benefit is expected to be derived from exhaustive experiments which will be carried on at the institute.

FAMINE CONDITIONS ARE NOT EXAGGERATED

Columbia University Instructor Returns From Volga District in Russia

DISEASE IS RAGING ALSO

Riga, Aug. 31—The terrible conditions in the Volga have not been exaggerated. Famine and disease are killing thousands every day. Vast sections will soon be exterminated.

Jerome Davis, instructor in sociology at Columbia University today, returned from a seventeen day tour of Russia including the famine regions and in an interview with the United Press confirmed refugees' accounts of the desperate situation in the hunger zone.

Speaking fluent Russian, Davis travelled independent of any organization in the filthy fourth class box cars where the peasants were huddled like cattle.

"In many villages of the Samara district" he said, "fully half the population was dead. People were eating bark, gnawing in desperate hunger at anything vegetable. Mothers in desperation were drowning their infants in the dirty rivers. Entire families were committing suicide together, locking themselves in a single room huddling close to one another for warmth, biting at their fingers and licking the blood, and suffocating slowing in the midst of indescribable filth.

"Many other families were breaking up, scattered through out the country".

FRENCH COMMERCE IS RETURNING TO NORMAL

Exports Are Gradually Becoming Back to Pre-War Level, Customs Figures Reveal

IMPORTS SHOW A DECREASE

Paris, Aug. 31—Steadily France's production, as revealed in her exports, is climbing back to the pre-war level.

Customs figures for the first six months of 1921 show a total exports of 7,325,952 tons, as compared with 10,050,486 during the same period in 1913 and 5,523,481 during the first half of last year.

Imports decreased by 6,073,334 during the last twelve months, dropping below the figure for 1913.

In the industrial regions the return to pre-war production is being rushed. New factories are being built upon the ruins of the old, and new machinery installed in the buildings left standing at the armistice. In Lille, for instance, nearly all the factories have now resumed operations.

Gradually smokestacks and new red brick building fronts are becoming more and more numerous up and down the old battle line.

Crime Plague Produced 21 Deaths in Block

By HERBERT LITTLE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Centerville, Ia., Aug. 31—Iowa's "murder block" in the Italian residence district in this little town of seven thousand, has seen twenty-one tragic deaths in the last fifteen years.

Beautiful young Italian girls have been the "lorealis" that caused eight of the murders in the lethal area, and eight young suitors lie in a nearby graveyard.

The mood of killing has hung heavy over the spot. Most of the murderers have been erstwhile friends of the victims, turned traitor to friendship by green, passion, jealousy and the green-eyed god of envy.

Camilla Russo, pretty school girl, who broke into newspaper headlines a year ago, slew her man in the little district. She lived on a corner nearby.

The last crime was three months ago, when a Mexican laborer, refused credit by an Italian ice cream peddler, shot and killed the peddler as he was driving across the street intersection.

Three of the deaths resulted from shooting duals, following arguments over "honor". One man was found dead in the street, pockets ransacked and a pick run through his back, several years ago. Two Italians, pals for years, met with .38 calibre automatics one sultry afternoon, and shot it out. Both were killed.

One Italian, unidentified, was found lying across the crossing with his throat cut. There were whispers of a vendetta. Four of the slayings resulted from drunken debauches, when knives and revolvers were too easily available.

The "hoodoo block" is avoided by Centerville citizens. Delivery boys will travel four or five blocks to avoid the spot.

A local photographer refused to take a picture of the street. "I don't think it would be advisable", he said.

MANDATES HARD PROBLEM TO SETTLE

Will be Able to Submit to League Assembly Final Terms Under Which England Will Administer

DELAY DUE TO U. S. PROTEST

Each Country Holding Mandate Will be Required to Report Yearly to a Commission

By HENRY WOOD
U. P. Staff Correspondent

Geneva (By Mail)—The thorny question of mandates over Germany's former colonies will in all probability be definitely settled during the second general assembly of the League of Nations, which convenes here on September 5.

Unless unforeseen obstacles arise, the Council of the League will be able to submit to the assembly the final terms of the mandates under which England will administer Palestine and Mesopotamia and France, Syria and Lebanon. Mandates will similarly be approved and handed over to England, France and Belgium for the administration of the former German colonies in Africa.

In the meantime, German West Africa and all of the former German islands in the Pacific, both north and south of the Equator are already being administered under the terms of the mandates approved by the council and assembly last December by the Union of South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, England and Japan—with but one exception.

This one exception is the Japanese mandate over the island of Yap against which the United States has protested.

As a matter of fact, practically all of the delay in the approving of the terms of the mandates has been due to the American protest against the Yap mandate and the Franco-British oil agreement in Syria and Mesopotamia.

As a consequence, while waiting for the mandates to be actually given them, all of the Allied powers who are to administer mandated territories are being obliged to hold down the latter by what is virtually a military regime and dictatorship. This has resulted in several revolutions and near-revolutions of the native populations, who are clamoring the mandate administrations promised them under the Treaties of Versailles and Severs instead of the French and English troops now governing them.

The result has been to make the question of mandates one of the most urgent importance.

Owing to the refusal of the United States to accept the approval of any mandates which do not provide for equal commercial rights in the mandated territories for all of the allies and of the Anglo-French agreement to split up the oil production of Mesopotamia, and Syria between them, the final drawing up of the terms of the mandates by the League council has been delayed.

The council last June notified all of the allies and the United States that the mandates could not be approved until the allies should get together with the United States on the details. As a result, direct negotiations were immediately entered into between England, France and the United States. It is expected that a full agreement will be reached by them so that when the League council meets at Geneva on September 1, five days preceding the opening of the League's second general assembly, it will then be possible to approve the terms of the mandates.

These will then be submitted to the assembly and finally given over to the mandate powers, so that they can begin at once the administration of the territories under the mandate system.

Each country holding a mandate will be required to report yearly to a commission on the manner in which it is carrying out its mandates, and this commission in turn will advise the League on the manner in which it is carrying out its mandates, and this commission in turn will advise the League on the manner in which the territories are being administered.

NOT ENOUGH SPACE FOR CONCESSIONS AT FAIR

State Fair Officials Said Today
They Would Not Have Enough
Room to Handle Livestock

LOOK FOR LARGE ATTENDANCE

Indianapolis, August 31—Fair officials said today they would not have enough room to handle the live stock and concessions which have been applied for at the fair.

Tom Grant, president of the state fair board, said that he had turned down a number of applications for space at the grounds.

"Pigs, cattle horses and other live stock exhibits have run over the number we had last year so far that I am afraid we will have to refuse a good many applications", Grant said.

"At first we had to encourage live-stock breeders to place entries on the program. Now we will have to send them home.

"There will not be enough room for the manufactured articles, although they are holding a pageant in Indianapolis next month, and the same is true of farm implements."

Members of the state fair board were confident that they would have a larger attendance at the fair this year than last.

The 1920 fair board made several thousand dollars profit. It is believed that this amount will be considerably larger this year.
